

David Cotterrell: RSA Journal : Art and Conflict

Date: 31st March 2008

Copyright Status: RSA, David Cotterrell, Michaela Crimmin

A feature article printed within the Spring Issue of the RSA Journal featuring an essay by Michaela Crimmin and text and image contributions from David Cotterrell.

Artists are providing new perspectives on the subject of war, says RSA head of arts Michaela Crimmin as she explores the history of art and conflict and introduces artist David Cotterrell's RSA residency in Kabul. The accompanying photo essay is a result of his recent stay with British troops in Afghanistan.

This article is produced by Phil Pemberton of the RSA Journal and has been made available for viewing by kind permission of the RSA, Wardour and Michaela Crimmin. Copyright is retained by the authors and publishers.

This file may be viewed with Adobe Acrobat Reader.

Waiting for aeromed casualties, Kandahar Credit: David Cotterrell (2007)